the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are illiterate has increased from 1.1 billion to 1.2 billion (UNESCO 2003).

There are many reasons for the increase in illiteracy. One of the reasons is that the population of the world is increasing rapidly. Another reason is that the number of people who are illiterate is increasing in many countries, especially in the developing countries. This is because of the lack of access to education and the lack of resources for education.

There are many ways to reduce the number of illiterate people in the world. One way is to increase the number of schools and to improve the quality of education. Another way is to provide more resources for education, especially in the developing countries.

There are many ways to improve the quality of education. One way is to train teachers better. Another way is to use more modern teaching methods. A third way is to provide more resources for education, especially in the developing countries.

There are many ways to provide more resources for education. One way is to increase the government's spending on education. Another way is to encourage private investment in education. A third way is to provide more resources for education, especially in the developing countries.

There are many ways to increase the government's spending on education. One way is to increase the tax rate. Another way is to increase the budget. A third way is to provide more resources for education, especially in the developing countries.
